On May 29, 1958, a fisur was conducted by SA [redacted] and [redacted] in the vicinity of 1114 North Ridgeland, Oak Park, and it was noted that two automobiles were parked in the garage at this address. They were 1958 black Cadillac four-door, license [redacted] (listed to [redacted] Oak Park) and a 1958 cream colored Oldsmobile convertible, 1958 Illinois License [redacted] registered to [redacted]. No activity at the residence was noted and surveillance discontinued.

"Chicago Daily Tribune", February 21, 1959, reflects photograph of [redacted] standing behind ROCCO SALVATORE, JOSEPH GAGLIANO, and WILLIAM MESSINO at Senate inquiry as it is revealed all work for a company accused in $75,000 yearly shakedown of juke box operators.

"Chicago Daily Tribune", August 10, 1960, page 8, column 1, part 2, reflects article entitled "Juke Account Throws Light on Kickbacks" "Hoods Split $80,000 a year in payoffs" by SANDY SMITH.

"Secret records of the crime syndiacte's lush juke box racket have been uncovered by the Tribune.

"The documents contain a detailed up to date weekly account of how Chicago gangsters split up more than $80,000 a year in payoffs from juke box operators.

"In 20 years of almost constant investigation of the racket by police, federal agencies, grand juries and congressional committees, the records now held by the Tribune never came to light.

"The juke box hoodlums, who fashioned their racket into a solid money maker for the crime syndicate, never permitted the records to get out of their hands. They turned back all attempts to gain the papers by subpoena.

"The Tribune turned up salary kickbacks to a labor racketeer, FRED TOM (Juke Box) SMITH, 61, of 6118 Sheridan Road, a former electrical union business agent.

"ROCCO SALVATORE of 5030 Adams Street, a buddy of JUKE BOX SMITH, is paid a salary and expense allowance totaling $135 a week by the firm. Senate committee agents said they believed that SALVATORE was another payroll phantom.

"Federal income tax agents long have suspected but have been unable to prove that many of the hoodlums on the payroll were kicking back part or all of their salaries to JUKE BOX SMITH.

"A complete story of the salary kickbacks was disclosed for the first time by [redacted] a former professional middleweight prize fighter who went on the payroll May 13th at a salary of $125 a week plus an expense allowance of $35 a week, one of the "ghost" workers, in an interview with the Tribune."

Officer [redacted] Intelligence Unit, Chicago Police Department, furnished SA [redacted], on December 12, 1960, with information pertaining to an investigation recently conducted by the Intelligence Unit of the Chicago Police Department regarding SAM TEETS BATTAGLIA. On August 25, 1960, officers of the Intelligence Unit ascertained that SAM BATTAGLIA has a race horse farm located in Poplar Grove, Illinois, which is about 13 miles west of Elgin, Illinois. The name of the farm is Free Meadows Stock Farm, Horse Breeders, listed to the caretaker whose name is [redacted] The officers made a pretext call to this farm and ascertained that SAM BATTAGLIA on August 25, 1960, was in Pennsylvania but would return to the farm on August 27, 1960. It was mentioned that ROCCO SALVATORE was the chauffeur for BATTAGLIA and was at the farm on August 24, 1960. BATTAGLIA at that time was allegedly in Pennsylvania for the purpose of attending a Little League Baseball game in which his son was participating.

The pretext call also ascertained that ROCCO SALVATORE drives BATTAGLIA to this farm almost every day in the early morning hours and they both return to the Casa Madrid in Melrose Park, Illinois, where they remain for about two and a half hours during which time BATTAGLIA checks up the daily receipts of gambling at this establishment and then proceeds to his home in Oak Park, Illinois. According to Officer [redacted] BATTAGLIA still resides at 114 North Ridgeland Avenue in Oak Park. b6 b7C

On June 2, 1961, Officer [redacted] Intelligence Unit, Chicago Police Department, made available a list of Chicago hoodlums and license numbers that were in attendance at the wake of JOHN SORTINO at 6901 West Belmont Avenue May 16-17, 1961.

During May 16-17, 1961 Officers observed the following hoodlums that attended the wake of JOHN SORTINO:

Among those listed was ROCCO SALVATORE.

On August 22, 1961, Sergeant [redacted] and Officer [redacted] Intelligence Unit, Chicago Police Department, advised as follows:

On August 22, 1961, Officers [redacted] and [redacted] were attempting to place SAM BATTAGLIA, 1114 Ridgeland Avenue, Oak Park, Illinois, under surveillance in order to determine the address of BATTAGLIA's paramour, [redacted] It has been alleged that [redacted] maintains at her apartment business records of BATTAGLIA's enterprises.

During the afternoon of August 22, 1961, BATTAGLIA left his residence while being driven by his bodyguard-chauffeur ROCCO SALVATORE. A short time later the police surveillance apparently was detected and BATTAGLIA and SALVATORE came to a sudden stop in an alley in the vicinity of Elmwood and Division in Oak Park.

BATTAGLIA got out of his car and ran back to the police car. He reached in and grabbed Officer [redacted] by the lapel of his coat and ordered him to get out of his car and engaged in a fist fight with BATTAGLIA. A short time later, BATTAGLIA pleaded with [redacted] not to hit again. During this fight Officer [redacted] kept ROCCO SALVATORE from joining into this fight and was shouting for the police claiming that these individuals were "robbers". A short time later officers from the Oak Park Police Department came to the scene and ordered these individuals to the Oak Park Police Station. Sergeant [redacted] had considered filing an assault and battery charge against BATTAGLIA who claimed that he would file a civil rights complaint against the officers. It was finally determined by the group to drop these charges and all were dismissed. b6 b7C

Following the departure of [redacted] and [redacted] BATTAGLIA and SALVATORE remained in Captain [redacted] office apparently for a further discussion of this incident.

"Chicago American", September 24, 1961, page 1, column 1, reflects article entitled "Police Raid Casa Madrid"

"State's Attorney's police and two state troopers yesterday smashed through several steel doors in the notorious Casa Madrid, 171 25th Avenue, Melrose Park, arrested 12 persons on gaming charges and seized gambling equipment.

"Seized near a stairway leading to the second floor, [redacted] denied his identity until he was recognized by one of the raiders.

"Others arrested included ROCCO SALVATORE, 50, 5413 Congress Street, an uncle by marriage of BATTAGLIA."

"Chicago Daily Tribune", September 28, 1962, page 13, column 1, reflects article entitled "Strip Hoods of Car Titles and Licenses".

"The state license plates and auto title certificates of 11 persons with crime syndicate ties were ordered revoked yesterday because of phony addresses listed on applications.

"The revocations mean the crime syndicate figures not only cannot drive their automobiles but will be unable to sell them. A title certificate is required by law for an auto sale.

[redacted] said those involved in the action have a right to demand a hearing and if it is granted, could move to amend their false applications. [redacted] and the undercover detectives expressed doubt, however, that any of the persons named in the orders would risk perjury action by doing so.

"Among those license plates and title certificates revoked included ROCCO SALVATORE, a juke box racketeer, who gave an address of 5418 Congress Street in obtaining license plate 842-482 for a 1962 Oldsmobile. His legal address, authorities say, is 1114 N. Ridgeland Avenue, Oak Park, the home of SAM BATTAGLIA, one of the city's toughest hoodlums. SALVATORE is reputedly related to BATTAGLIA and serves as his driver." b6 b7C

Officer [redacted] Intelligence Unit, Chicago Police Department, advised on April 15, 1963, that the following prominent hoodlums were observed in attendance at the wake of MICHAEL SPRANZE, a well-known CAPONE associate:

Among those listed was ROCCO SALVATORE.

On May 20, 1963, Lieutenant [redacted] Melrose Park Police Department, advised that [redacted] was known as [redacted] residing at [redacted] [redacted] stated that [redacted] runs a tavern at [redacted] [redacted] in Melrose Park for [redacted]

During the same date physical observation of the building at 19th and Main Street, Melrose Park, reflected that the tavern there bore the name MARY LOU and NICKY's and was located at 100 North 19th Street, Melrose Park. At approximately 4:00 p.m. on the same date an individual recognized to be ROCCO SALVATORE parked a recent model Pontiac bearing 1963 license 893-635 in a no parking zone in front of the tavern. He then entered the tavern. A short time later this violation was pointed out to a motorcycle policeman of the Melrose Park Police Department, Melrose Park, Illinois, who was later identified as Sergeant [redacted] and he placed a traffic citation on the vehicle.

Records of the Central National Bank, La Salle and Monroe Street, contain the following information:

On December 10, 1960, Commercial Phonograph Survey, Incorporated, an Illinois corporation, with the officers listed as [redacted] President, JOSEPH GAGLIANO, Vice-

President, and [redacted] Secretary, opened a checking account at the Central National Bank. The signatures of either [redacted] or JOSEPH GAGLIANO is required on checks drawn against this account. b6 b7C

The current address for Commercial Phonograph Record Survey, Incorporated, is 874 North Wabash.

Checks were drawn against this account during the period May 31, 1963 through June 26, 1963:

Date	Payee	Check No.	Amount	Endorsements

"Chicago Sun-Times", Chicago, Illinois, Five Star Final Turf, October 2, 1963, page 28, column 3, reflects article, "1,000 on U. S. Cosa Nostra List".

Chicago hoodlums on the Cosa Nostra list include:

ROCCO SALVATORE

A survey was made in the vicinity of the BATTAGLIA farm at Pinegree Grove, Illinois on August 2, 1964, during which activity was observed by SA [redacted] and SA [redacted]

During the course of this surveillance a number of cars were observed to enter the premises of the BATTAGLIA farm.

Listed:

ROCCO SALVATORE is involved in a call girl service. He stated this information has developed as a result of an investigation being conducted in the area by the Illinois State Highway Patrol. He advised that SALVATORE has girls operating in an establishment known as the Four Wheels in the Elgin area. He stated that in this connection the Highway Patrol was conducting an investigation concerning an Indian girl named BONNIE, however, limited investigation was conducted inasmuch as the girl was murdered. He stated she was killed in Taffel's Motel in Algonquin, Illinois the night before she was scheduled to leave for Las Vegas to work as a prostitute in the Sands Motel. [redacted] stated that BONNIE had worked for SALVATORE prior to her death. b6 b7C

During January, 1965, CG T-3 advised that ROCCO SALVATORE is also known as BOBBY DORE (Phonetic) and is the uncle of [redacted] SALVATORE is a big bookmaker and [redacted] runs the Charm Club, 19th and North Avenue, Melrose Park, which is owned by SAM BATTAGLIA. ANGELO PETER JANNOTTA, 545 N. Wood Street, Chicago, Illinois was observed at the Municipal Building, Carpentersville, Illinois at 1:20 PM on August 8, 1966. As SA [redacted] entered the building JANNOTTA walked out the same door and said to SA [redacted], "Why the (obscene) don't you leave me alone?" He entered the building a few minutes later and was asked to step outside for a minute. He was advised that his comment could be taken in the nature of a threat and that SA [redacted] desired clarification of his remarks. He stated he was only joking when he made the comment and that he wanted no hard feelings. He furnished the following information:

Although ROCCO SALVATORE was to have appeared in court there on a traffic charge he was recently operated on for hemorrhoids and could not be there. He just left St. Ann's Hospital in Chicago after being there for eight days and was still recuperating. SALVATORE had Attorney [redacted] call the "judge" that morning and tell him he could not be there and requested a continuance. [redacted] could not make it so he asked JANNOTTA to appear in court for him. He advised that it was true he had driven SALVATORE's car there which was parked in front.

He stated that he realized that the Agent was just doing his job and thought it was too bad he had been "sent" all the way out to Carpentersville just to see what happened. He stated that the FBI was investigating the "wrong people" and that there was no such thing as "the outfit" or "mafia" and that it's the "Irish Mafia" and "Jewish Mafia," and politicians that the FBI should get. He stated SAM BATTAGLIA was not the head of anything. He and his people never hurt anybody and that "gambling" wasn't any crime because people did it every day at the race track. He and his people don't carry guns and have no reason to because they never hurt anybody.

He advised BATTAGLIA is just a farmer and horse breeder. He has known BATTAGLIA for 35 years and respects him greatly. BATTAGLIA has worked hard all of his life. He described BATTAGLIA as a great "builder" and "designer" and pointed out the wonderful things he had done at the farm and how BATTAGLIA loves to design things. There are not many horses at the farm now because they have gotten rid of the second rate breeders and are now concentrating only on high quality horses.

He advised that he was at one time a bailiff in court in Chicago and had fixed many traffic cases for people and could not understand why there was so much bother about the ticket SALVATORE got. He stated the judges and lawyers were the crooked ones anyway.

He advised that he does not file income tax returns because he does not work and has no income. He lives in his father-in-law's building and his wife is too ill to work. He stated his father-in-law claimed him as a dependent for tax purposes. He has no money worries because all his family are successful and if he needed help he could get it. He used to work in gambling rooms when it was "legal" but just goes out to the farm with BATTAGLIA and "putters around" in his little garden there.

He stated he knew that he and his friends were followed by the FBI all the time but they did not mind and wouldn't do "anything" anyway until they know there was nobody around.

He advised he contracted tuberculosis two years ago however it has been arrested. Otherwise, he is in good health.

The "Chicago Tribune", three star final, on August 9, 1966, contained the following article:

"Gangster's Driver Fined For Speeding

"Uses Up All His Court Postponements

"Rocco Salvatore, alias Bobby Dore, part time chauffeur and confidant of a crime syndicate boss, disregarded the law and it cost only $25, it was disclosed yesterday.

"A fine of $15 and court costs of $10 were levied by Magistrate Donald T. Anderson of Carpentersville when Salvatore failed to appear in court for the second time.

"Salvatore's bout with the law over a speeding ticket began last April 12 when State Policemen [redacted] and [redacted] arrested him for driving 76 m.p.h. in a 50 m.p.h. zone on U.S. highway 20, near the small community of Udina, near Elgin. b6 b7C

"Near Battaglia's Farm

"This is only a few miles from the 200-acre horse breeding farm of Sam (Teetz) Battaglia, No. 2 man in the Chicago mob, where Salvatore is an almost daily visitor.

"Salvatore told the state troopers he lived at 1618 N. Merrimac av., Melrose Park, but didn't divulge his relationship with Battaglia.

"When the case came up two weeks later before Magistrate Anderson, Sgt. [redacted] of the Melrose Park police appeared instead of Salvatore. [redacted] told the court that Salvatore deserved "a break' because of his excellent character and reputation and, besides, Salvatore needed his driver's license in his 'business.'

"Police Learn Identity

"Meanwhile, state police discovered Salvatore's identity. They notified State's Atty. William Ketcham of Kane county and the charge was reinstated July 25.

"Salvatore showed up in Carpentersville and posted a $25 bond and asked for a continuance. Again, the case was set for yesterday.

"But when the case was called, Salvatore was not to be found.

"Instead, Angelo (Ribs) Jannotta, 542 N. Wood st., one of Battaglia's lackeys at the horse breeding farm, stepped forward.

"Salvatore, Jannotta informed the court, was ailing in St. Anne's hospital and couldn't appear.

"Magistrate Anderson refused to grant another continuance and levied the fine.

Date 9/14/66

ROCCO SALVATORE, 1618 North Merrimac, Chicago, Illinois, was observed in front of the law office of [redacted] 1831 North Broadway, Melrose Park, and approached the interviewing Agents who were in a Bureau car and furnished the following: b6 b7C

He has been known by the nickname of BOBBY DORE (PH) since he was a young man and played amateur baseball. He got his name from a major league baseball star of the same name during the 1940's.

Concerning "Strangers in the Night" he stated "a man can't even get a liquor license for a legitimate joint anymore without that (obscene) [redacted] writing an article connecting it with us". He denied that SAM BATTAGLIA had any interest in the club and that [redacted] didn't need a lot of money to go into business, all he needed was money for a license, and that it wasn't [redacted] that refused the license on his own but the newspaper publicity surrounding the license application caused it. He stated "we stopped doing that type of thing in Melrose Park" in apparent reference to the articles indicating the club would be used for vice activities and gambling.

He advised the only way to make money these days is to lease a "joint" to some legitimate guy, keep it clean, and collect the rents. That's what "we tried" to do but they wouldn't let us and stated that "when we took over the EL MARROCCO we cleaned it up".

He stated another way to make money is through horse breeding and that the "big tax write-off" is a big advantage.

During October, 1966, CG T-1 advised that the Charm Club at 1835 North Broadway, Melrose Park, is owned by subject and just about every morning subject picks up the receipts from the night before and takes them across the street to the Merchant's and Manufacturer's Bank. The building the club is located in is owned by [redacted] but was previously owned by [redacted] (phonetic) who was "muscled" out of the property. [redacted] was a former Melrose Park Police Officer and had a good business but was forced out. b6 b7C

Source advised that subject is not in the Charm Club when it is going and he hangs out with hoodlum CHECK NICOLETTI and waits until it closes when he picks up the receipts. He also appears to have an interest in May Lou's at 100 North Broadway, Melrose Park. This place used to be run by [redacted] but someone else is "fronting" for him now.

On October 13, 1966, a Federal Grand Jury at Chicago returned an indictment charging officers of the Charm Club with violation of Title 26, United States Code, Section 5301 (2)(C), a bottle refilling violation, and Bureau Agents assisted Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Unit Agents in identifying [redacted]

ROCCO SALVATORE then entered the bar and inquired as to what was happening. He was advised that the ATTD Agents were arresting [redacted]. He stated [redacted] was a good boy and ran a clean joint and stated it made him "sick" to see this happen. He said "I suppose they'll close the joint now" and indicated he was aware it was not the "fault" of the ATTD Agents, but it was the people "downtown" who were causing all this trouble.

[redacted] advised that, based on information furnished by the FBI, he was going to draw up a Citation, in addition to that already citing the Charm Club, based on [redacted] criminal record and the fact that ROCCO SALVATORE, who has been convicted of a "crime," is in violation of the Melrose Park Municipal Code by being on the payroll of the club, which was admitted to by the Charm Club attorney before the ILCC that date.

On the same date, December 6, 1966, attorney [redacted] appeared before the ILCC and obtained another continuance until January 3, 1967. Attorney [redacted] advised the ILCC that ROCCO SALVATORE was an employee of the Charm Club, Inc., and that he would be dropped from the payroll there if the ILCC would agree to consider this in whatever action it would take against the licensee. [redacted] told the ILCC that there was absolutely no other connection with the crime syndicate as regards the Charm Club and that SALVATORE was hired only because he was a relative of [redacted]

On January 3, 1967, [redacted] Technical Advisor, ILCC, advised that the Illegal Refilling charge under ILCC Citation #194-C had been taken under advisement by the Commission after no evidence was submitted by the licensee. He advised that he had learned that the 1966 license for the Charm Club expired December 31, 1966, and a 1967 license was not applied for. The attorney for the Charm Club had apparently suggested that his clients close the business until a determination is made by the ILCC.

DETAILS: AT CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

On May 3, 1973, the telephone toll records on subject's telephone, 237-7907, were obtained by a subpoena duces tecum from the [redacted] Chicago, Illinois. A review of these records disclosed there were no long distance charges for the months of February, March, and April, 1973. b7D

On July 6, 1973, the Drivers License records of the Secretary of State, State of Illinois, disclosed that the subject has current drivers license number S413-7201-1084 under the name of ROCCO SALVATORE, issued February 4, 1972, which will expire March 22, 1974. These license describe the subject as being male, 5'8", 160 pounds, brown eyes, and born March 22, 1911. His residence is given as 3032 Boyle Terrace, River Grove, Illinois.

On August 1, 1973, Chicago T-1 advised that SAM "Teets" BATTAGLIA expects to be paroled in less than a year. BATAGGLIA was attached to his farm at Pingree Grove which is presently occupied by [redacted] This farm reputedly is owned by [redacted] who spends very little time at the farm, however, Chicago T-1 added that in his opinion [redacted] is "holding this property" for BATTAGLIA and some arrangement has been made to turn the property back to BATTAGLIA upon his release. Chicago T-1 advised that before BATTAGLIA went to prison ROCCO SALVATORE was generally at BATTAGLIA's farm whenever BATTAGLIA was there. Next to BATTAGLIA, SALVATORE was the most important figure in the local mafia set up. SALVATORE is a smart operator and capable compared to [redacted] another close associate of BATTAGLIA. Chicago T-1 stated that SALVATORE now lives well in semi-retirement in his residence at Austin Boulevard and North Avenue, waiting for the return of BATTAGLIA. This source further stated that "Teets" BATTAGLIA had numerous investments and properties and obviously made some arrangement with SALVATORE to take care of his affairs while he was in prison. In order to get to BATTAGLIA in the old days, one had to go through SALVATORE. As a result of his power, SALVATORE became unpopular and knew when BATTAGLIA finally was sent away that he had bettwe clear out and stay away from the likes of CHARLES NICOLETTI and JOE AIUPPO. This source also stated that SALVATORE no doubt communicates regularily with BATTAGLIA and once BATTAGLIA returns to the street, SALVATORE again will be restored to a position of importance. b6 b7C

U. S. GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE : 1970 O - 406-840

DETAILS:

On December 16, 1974, observations of the six unit apartment building located at 3032 North Boyle Terrace, River Grove, Illinois, disclosed the following names on the mail boxes in the vestibule of the building:

R. SALVATORE, 1st Floor with the written in name of [redacted] b6 b7C

CONTE CONSTRUCTION CO. [redacted]

[redacted]

Observations on the above date failed to disclose at 2:45 PM, any automobile registering to the subject or [redacted]

It is to be noted that the name [redacted] added to the subject's mail box may be in reference to [redacted] who, in previous investigation it was revealed [redacted]

On January 7, 1975, spot check observations of the subject's residence, 3032 North Boyle Terrace, River Grove, Illinois, at 11:40 AM, failed to disclose the presence of any automobiles registering to the subject or [redacted]

On January 7, 1975, [redacted] Supervising Clerk, Western Cook County Credit Bureau, 105 North Oak Park Avenue, Oak Park, Illinois, which maintains coverage in River Grove, Illinois, advised that the only reference in this Bureau's files as to ROCCO SALVATORE is a news article dated October 27, 1967, in the Chicago Sun Times newspaper to the effect that ROCCO SALVATORE, 1114 North Ridgeland Avenue, Oak Park, Illinois, is a member of the Chicago Syndicate. [redacted] also advised that her listing for one [redacted] Illinois, is from a Chicago Tribune newspaper article dated April 19, 1967, showing him as the licensed operator of the Charm Club, Melrose Park, Illinois, and [redacted] It is noted the above address for ROCCO SALVATORE at 1114 North Ridgeland Avenue, Oak Park, Illinois, was the known address of SAM "Teets" BATTAGLIA, who died September 7, 1973 following his release from Federal prison.

On February 14, 1975, a check with the Offices of the Secretary of State, State of Illinois, disclosed [redacted] b6 b7C Illinois, has register to her a 1973 Oldsmobile Coupe, VIN number G37K3M233298 with 1975 Illinois license [redacted] These same records disclose ROCCO SALVATORE, 3032 North Boyle Terrace Avenue, River Grove, Illinois, has a 1974 Oldsmobile Hardtop, VIN 3N57K4N136773, which contains 1975 Illinois license PR 4263.

On March 6 and 27, 1975, between 12:00 noon and 1:00 PM, spot check observations of the subject's residence failed to disclose any activity on the part of the subject and his wife, [redacted] nor the presence of either automobile registering to them.

On April 16, 1975, in an effort to contact ROCCO SALVATORE for possible interview, the door bell for his apartment at 3032 North Boyle Terrace, River Grove, Illinois, located in the vestibule at the mail box area, was used several times without any responce. After a few minutes of ringing, an unknown younger male entered the lower vestibule area and stated he had been in the rear vestibule area and thought it was his apartment bell ringing. When informed that the Agent was ringing the SALVATORE apartment, this individual responded with, [redacted] is just entering the real vestibule now". The SALVATORE bell was used again and a female voice was head from within ask "Who is it?". She was first asked through the closed door if she was [redacted] to which she replied, "No, I'm the babysitter." She then opened the door and the investigating Agent identified himself and this female, white, approximately 60 years of age, asked what the Agent wanted. When told the Agent wished to talk to Mr. ROCCO SALVATORE she wanted to know about what matter. She was then informed that the Agent did not normally discuss Mr. ROCCO SALVATORE's private business with his babysitter. She would not then state how ROCCO SALVATORE could be reached and the Agent's name and the FBI telephone number was left with her to be referred to ROCCO SALVATORE, with a request that he telephone the Agent.

On April 17, 1975, a message was received at the Chicago FBI Office for the investigating Agent from Attorney [redacted] "Attorney for Rocco Salvatore".

On April 18, 1975, a telephone call was placed to Chicago telephone [redacted], the number left by [redacted] Chicago, Illinois, who made inquiry as to why the investigating Agent wanted to talk to ROCCO SALVATORE. He was informed that the matter was a routine interview as to his present activities and that it was not for the purposes of arrest or serving of a subpoena. [redacted] stated that Mr. SALVATORE had a right to the advice of an Attorney and that he would attempt to reach ROCCO SALVATORE and determine whether SALVATORE would submit to an interview by the investigating Agent. b6 b7C

On April 28, 1975, in the absence of any return call from Attorney [redacted], investigating Agent again telephoned [redacted] who stated that he had called and left a message. He was informed that none had been received by this office, hence the Agent's called to him. Attorney [redacted] stated that since Mr. SALVATORE had a right to an attorney, he had contacted ROCCO SALVATORE who had informed him that he (SALVATORE) did not desire "to be interviewed by you or any other FBI Agent". Attorney [redacted] was informed that the FBI's investigation of SALVATORE would continue none-the-less.

On April 28, 1975, observations of the subject residence in River Grove, Illinois, failed to reveal any activity on the part of the subject or his wife, nor the presence of their automobiles.

It is to be noted that on April 16, 1975, when contact was had with the female at the SALVATORE apartment claiming to be the "babysitter", upon leaving, the registered automobile for [redacted] 1975 Illinois license [redacted] was noted to be parked on the street immediately in front of the investigating Agent's car, and it had not been there upon the arrival of the Agent.
